

Assistant Director, Communications

9 November 1953

Director of Security

Security Office - Emergency Security Patrol
Radio Network

1. On Thursday, 5 November 1953, the Security Office radio network went on the air officially for the first time in connection with the Air Raid practice alert. Various units of the Security Patrol utilized mobile units, pack sets and handie-talkies, and were in continual and effective communication with each other throughout the alert.

2. I would like to express appreciation for the time and effort expended by personnel in your office in assisting us to effectuate this program.
